

THE NEWS OF THE WAR CAN CAUSE YOU

DIFFICULTY TO SLEEP

NEGATIVE THOUGHTS ABOUT YOURSELF, OTHERS AND THE WORLD

SOMATIC PROBLEMS

SENSE OF IMPOTENCE

PAIN / SADNESS

DIFFICULTY TO CONCENTRATE

FEELING OF EXTRANITY AND IRREALITY

CONSTANT ALERT AND ANXIETY STATE

DIFFICULTY TO RECOVER A STATE OF CALM

WHAT CAN YOU DO

RECOGNIZE AND WELCOME

RELAX BODY AND MIND

FIND YOUR SAFE PLACE

RECOGNIZE AND WELCOME

- Listen and recognize what happens to your emotions, feelings, thoughts and your body.
- Do not deny what you are feeling: it is normal to have intense reactions to serious and collective events.

RELAX BODY AND MIND

- Talk about your emotions to those you know who can listen to them without judgment.
- Choose positive and calm people who are supportive for you.
- Do stretching exercises, hot showers or deep breaths.
- Learn some "grounding" exercises or walk outdoors.
- Take care of nutrition and sleep.
- Do not over-expose: Follow the news once a day and NOT before bed.
- Distract yourself: look for moments to clear your mind, this will allow you to be lucid, strong and face your day.

FIND YOUR SAFE PLACE

- Choose a symbolic gesture to act and feel less helpless: a prayer, an offer, help a person, a resolution to manage conflicts with others people, etc.
- The sense of helplessness is a first natural response to serious events but to recover balance it is necessary to identify a place (opinion, thought, action, etc.) in which we feel safe.

LIFE HAS EVOLVED THANKS TO COLLABORATION AND CARING FOR EACH OTHER AND WILL CONTINUE LIKE THIS DESPITE THE PERSISTENCE OF DARK MOMENTS.

THIS CAN ALSO HAPPEN THANKS
YOUR ABILITY TO TAKE CARE OF YOURSELF
AND THE WELL-BEING OF THOSE AROUND YOU
